

OCBC Hong Kong Champions Innovation and Technology as Gold Sponsor of HKUST Unicorn Day 2026

Hong Kong, 2 Jun 2026 — OCBC Bank (Hong Kong) Limited (“OCBC Hong Kong”), together with its technology investment partner Lion X Ventures, a Southeast Asia and Greater China focused venture capital fund, is proud to support The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology Unicorn Day 2026 (“Unicorn Day 2026”) as Gold Sponsors. The collaborative sponsorship reflects the Bank’s commitment to supporting the entrepreneurs, enterprises, and communities striving to realise their aspirations across Hong Kong and beyond, while demonstrating its capacity to build connectivity and a cross-border ecosystem across the Greater China-ASEAN corridor.

As one of the largest innovation and entrepreneurship gatherings in the city’s higher education sector, Unicorn Day 2026 brings together global investors and industry leaders for focused exchange and collaboration. Mr Johnny Wei, Head of Wholesale Banking, OCBC Hong Kong, joined the DeepTech VIP tour alongside Guest of Honour Professor Sun Dong, Secretary for Innovation, Technology and Industry of the HKSAR Government, and Professor Nancy Ip, President of The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology, gaining first-hand exposure to the Technology Showcase. At the networking luncheon that followed, Johnny exchanged views with industry leaders on the trends and future of Hong Kong’s innovation economy. The discussions provided OCBC Hong Kong with valuable perspectives on technology and financial sectors, further strengthening the Bank’s capability to design solutions tailored to clients across the Greater China and ASEAN corridors.

Mr Johnny Wei, Head of Wholesale Banking, OCBC Hong Kong, said, “Hong Kong’s innovation story is being shaped by entrepreneurs, investors and innovators across the city, many of whom we met at Unicorn Day. Guided by OCBC Group’s strategy of transforming our customers’ experiences through AI, Digital and Data, and supported by our twin-hub presence in Hong Kong and Singapore, OCBC Hong Kong is uniquely positioned to serve as a super-connector, linking visionary enterprises with the capital, expertise, and regional networks they need to scale across the Greater China and ASEAN markets. We are committed to investing in Hong Kong’s tech and innovation community for the years to come.”
